Product Intro:

Some golfers try to avoid using a fairway wood; they just can't make consistent contact off of the ground or they don't hit it as well as they would like to. Big Bertha B-21 is here to change all that - it's our easiest to launch fairway wood that's designed to give you more distance any way you swing it.

With our legendary Big Bertha shaping and increased offset, we've created a forgiving design that can take the slice or big miss out of your game. It's easy to hit like a hybrid, from a shallower face, progressive lengths, and a larger head that promote more distance and better control into the green. To provide even more forgiveness, we've included our significantly lighter T2C Triaxial carbon crown for higher MOI.

Our industry-leading ball speed technologies are engineered to help you hit the ball a lot farther. We're promoting fast speeds across a more expansive area of the face with our A.I. designed Flash Face SS21. And it's combined with our legendary Jailbreak Technology to deliver even more speed at impact. If you want to hit your fairway woods better than ever, you've come to the right place.
